WAT practice set 1: 60 words

The Word Association Test shows 60 words, one at a time, for about 15 seconds each. Write the first meaningful sentence the word brings to mind. Practise against a timer: read the word, write one short, positive and natural sentence, and move on. Do not rehearse fixed answers.

How to review your set

- Count how many sentences you finished in time.
- Mark sentences that are lectures or slogans rather than what you would actually think or do.
- Mark negative words you turned into avoidance; aim for sentences that show action.
- Repeat with a fresh word list after a few days, not the same list.

Practice material prepared for aspirants. The procedure and timings at your Selection Board are set by the board itself and your call-up letter.
